

Costello Convicted On Three Counts Of Tax Evasion

New York (AP) — Frank Costello, once the king of gamblers, was convicted last night on three counts of federal income tax evasion.

The 63-year-old Costello, dressed as conservatively as any banker, bowed his head into his trembling hands as the foreman of the jury announced the verdict.

It was the third time in his long and checkered career that Costello was convicted of a crime.

The tension of sweating out the eight-hour deliberations of the jury ever, Costello pulled a handkerchief from his breast pocket and dabbed weakly at his forehead.

He faces a possible total of 15 years in prison and a $30,000 fine.

The onetime underworld kingpin, who has argued that he's been going straight for years, was acquitted on one of the four counts in the indictment. He was charged with evading $52,239 in income taxes for the years 1946 through 1949.

Costello's conviction was similar to the 1931 income tax rap that toppled the late Al Capone from the pinnacle of prohibition notoriety and put him behind bars for an 11-year term.

Capone came out a physically broken man and died in 1947.

"It has taken years of investigation to catch him and now we've got him," Chief Asst. U. S. Atty. Lloyd F. MacMahon had boasted as he ended his case Wednesday before a jury of four women and eight men.

Laniel Wins Close Vote Of Confidence

Paris (AP) — Premier Joseph Laniel won a National Assembly confidence ballot by only two votes last night.

From the small margin of his victory it appeared his government would be thrown out of office as soon as the talks on Indochina end at Geneva.

The Assembly vote was 289 to 287. Despite the nominal victory, the closeness of the vote underlined that the Laniel Cabinet was on its last legs, its prestige severely weakened by the fall of the Indochina fort of Dien Bien Phu a week ago.

Laniel pleaded with the Assembly not to throw him out of office now and thus open a crisis while critical negotiations for an Indochina peace were going on at Geneva.

Candidate Withdraws From Race

Philadelphia (AP) — Wilhelm F. Knauer, a Republican candidate for the Superior Court, announced yesterday he is withdrawing from active campaigning.

Although his name will remain on the ballot in the May 18 primary, Knauer said he is urging his friends to withhold their votes for him. He said in a statement he was making the move in the interests of party harmony and to enable him to work for the election of a Republican Congress in the November general election.

His withdrawal leaves six candidates seeking the three seats up for nomination.

Democrats Chester H. Rhodes and F. Clair Ross and Republican Robert E. Woodside, all now on the bench, are seeking the nominations, along with State Sen. John M. Walker, Judge George W. Griffiths of Cambria County and Ralph T. Bell of Pittsburgh. The Republican group of leaders endorsing slated candidates have backed Bell, Woodside and Griffiths.

Washington (AP) — The Pentagon and the Atomic Energy Commission yesterday announced "successful" completion of the 1954 hydrogen explosion tests in the Pacific.

St. Lawrence Seaway Bill Signed By Mr. Eisenhower

Washington (AP) — President Eisenhower signed the St. Lawrence Seaway bill yesterday authorizing the United States to join Canada in digging the great new waterway.

The project will open the heart of the American continent to ocean shipping. A companion project calls for a dam on the broad St. Lawrence River, to provide a new source of electric power for the northeast.

"Now work can begin on the great project," the President said as he signed the measure with nine special pens at a White House ceremony. He noted that it took 30 years to get the controversial legislation through Congress.

More than 20 senators and members of the House turned out for the signing ceremony. Another witness was Ambassador A. D. P. Henney of Canada.

U.S. Moves For United Front In Southeast Asia

India Asked To Help Block Soviet Threat

By John M. Hightower

Washington (AP) — The United States, it was learned yesterday, is opening conversations with several South Asian countries, including India, to give them an opportunity to join a united front against Communist power.

Secretary of States Dulles and his chief aides regard the diplomatic move as an extremely delicate one. They have designed it in such a way that none of the five countries principally involved has to say "yes" or "no."

Of the five it is expected that India and Indonesia will show no interest in joining any such cooperative enterprise at this stage. Their foreign policies to date have aimed at a kind of neutrality between the Communist and non-Communist blocs.

On the other hand Western officials have believed that Burma, Pakistan or Ceylon—perhaps all of them—are interested in lining up with the free world nations in opposing Red aggression.

These five are known as the "Columbo powers." The Prime Ministers of the five nations met last month at Colombo, Ceylon, where they split along policy lines. India and Indonesia sought to concentrate on the denunciation of colonialism whereas the other three wanted also to include Communism among threats to world peace. The result was a compromise resolution warning Reds and anti-Reds alike to watch step.

While Secretary Dulles has been concentrating on trying to win the active and early cooperation of five other Asian countries and five Pacific powers in the development of a new anti-Communist alliance, Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy has handled the talks with the Columbo group.

The British government has also been in close contact with the Columbo group, all of which are members of the British Commonwealth except Indonesia.

Yesterday Murphy conferred with Indonesian Ambassador Moekarto Notowidigdo and scheduled a session with Indian Ambassador G. L. Mehta.

He saw Burmese Ambassador James Barrington last Monday and it was said that he intends shortly to see the diplomatic representatives of Pakistan and Ceylon.

Murphy was reported to be telling the diplomats in general what the United States proposed to do about setting up an alliance.

Heavy Losses Reported In Vietnam Attack

Hanoi, Indochina (AP) — Vietnam troops yesterday hurled their heaviest attack of the year in the vital Red River Delta against French forces near Phuly, 30 miles south of Hanoi. The French said their battalions smashed the assault but suffered "serious losses."

The Communist-led Vietnamese threw 2,000 to 3,000 regulars against the French one mile south of Phuly—a key point in the delta on a direct road to Hanoi. Rebel losses were described as "extremely heavy."

In repelling the assault the French used intensive artillery fire, "massive" air strafings and bombings, and counterattacks by infantry spearheaded by tanks, the high command said.

Commissioners Suggest That School Directors Press For More Equitable Assessments

Harry Drennan, Barrett Township school director, conferred with county commissioners for about 80 minutes yesterday on assessments. Drennan was the author of an assessment plan more than two years ago which proposed pegging property assessments at a third of the actual market values.

He made the same proposal to Commissioners Amal F. Altenose, W. Adolph Rake and Granville Shiffer yesterday. A chief aim of the Drennan plan was to provide relief and headroom for school districts which are already levying the maximum school tax.

Drennan pointed out to commissioners that property values have increased in recent years and that assessments have not kept pace. He cited figures from the State Tax Equalization Board in support of his stand.

Commissioners replied that a program is already under way to equalize assessments. The $75,000 job is in the hands of John E. Aicher, an engineer hired to set up the system required by recent as-essment legislation. The new system will incorporate a cash value appraisal of all county real estate. Assessments will be based on the appraisals . . . at a given per cent.

Commissioners suggested to Drennan that if some school districts are hard-pressed now because of assessments being too low, the school directors should call in the local assessor and convince him of the need for higher or more equitable assessment.

According to the commissioners' clerk, Drennan indicated he would talk with school directors along these lines to see what could be done.

Communists Not Expected To Accept Eden's Plan For Unification Of Korea

Geneva (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden laid down yesterday the "absolute minimum" of Western requirements for a formula to unify Korea.

He urged action upon them by the 19-nation conference on Korea, but most of the principles Eden cited have been rejected already by the Communists. The Reds were not expected to change their views.

With Eden's declaration the effort here to find a plan for unifying Korea moved out of its primary stage. Despite sharp East-West disagreement a British spokesman said the talking on Korea "may last a long time yet."

All delegations, except that of Luxembourg, now have stated their views on the Korean situation. There was no indication Luxembourg wanted to speak. No date was set for the next meeting on Korea. Eden suggested it might be a restricted session, devoted to bringing together differing viewpoints.

Two of the points made by Eden yesterday—free elections supervised by the United Nations and proportional representation of North and South Koreans on any unification organs—are absolutely opposed to the Communist program for Korea.

Eden made three other points in his listing of "basic principles" for solution of the problem—elections for the formation of an all-Korean government, universal adult suffrage and a secret ballot and absolute freedom in balloting.

They drew only silence from the Communist seats. Universal adult suffrage seemed to be the only idea acceptable to the Communists in the present atmosphere. Eden rejected the charges made by Red China's Chou En-lai that the United States was embarked on a policy of "imperialistic aggression" in Asia and warned that "we shall not achieve our aim (of achieving peace) by raking over the embers of the past."

Reynolds, Van Horn Convicted

James Reynolds and Eugene VanHorn were found guilty last night in county court of false fire alarm charges.

The jury deliberated four hours and 25 minutes before returning the verdict at 7:55. Recommendations of clemency were made for both defendants.

Reynolds promptly petitioned for a new trial for himself.

Van Horn stood pat on the finding of guilty.

President Judge Fred W. Davis told Reynolds he would have about four days in which to enter a formal motion for new trial. Looking toward VanHorn, he said he would defer sentencing until he had had some time to think about it.

Reynolds' bail was set at $1,500. He was committed to county jail with VanHorn.

The fourth day of trial started with cross-examination of Reynolds by District Attorney Elmer D. Christine. The prosecutor went over Reynolds' story of his movements last Feb. 15 in and around East Stroudsburg, before, during and after two false fire alarms were turned in.

After Reynolds rested his case for the defense, the district attorney summed up the prosecution's side for the jury. Then, for almost an hour, Reynolds summed up for the defense.

Reynolds and VanHorn acted as their own counsel through the trial. Reynolds handled almost all the direct and cross-examination of witnesses.

The charge to the jury by Judge Davis came in the afternoon. He pointed out that the prosecution did not attempt to prove Reynolds actually pulled the alarm, but that Reynolds aided and abetted the false fire alarms to be pulled.

The judge reminded the jury that Reynolds and VanHorn claimed they knew nothing about who turned in the false alarms, and VanHorn denied the statement of David Miller, a State's witness, that Van Horn turned in the King St. alarm.

Also referred to was Miller's testimony that he, the defendant, and William Schoonover decided on the false alarms because they "wanted to get the East Stroudsburg police a bit excited."

Judge Davis went over the testimony of all key witnesses for defense and prosecution. He referred to the testimony that Reynolds had been convicted of larceny in Monroe County Court and sentenced Dec. 13, 1948; this information could be considered in weighing the credibility of his testimony, the jury was told.

The charge ended at 3:30 and the jury left to begin deliberating. At 4:15 the jury filed back into the courtroom to ask further instruction.

Juror Frank Lanterman phrased the question for the jury: "Is a man legally entitled to counsel before a hearing?"

He added that he was not referring to the present trial in county court, but was asking in general terms, and thinking of the preliminary hearing.

Judge Davis advised that this was a legal matter, and it was the function of the jury to determine the guilt or innocence of the defendants.

The jury returned to the jury room.

Reynolds and VanHorn remained in the courtroom for the succeeding hours, along with a few friends. Court personnel and officials also waited in adjoining halls, consultation rooms and offices.

When the jury finally came down to give its verdict the four women and eight men looked weary.

Jury foreman Mrs. Alton P. Albright of Polk Township read the verdicts aloud. Then she added, "We also have another paper to present to the judge at this time."

Court clerk James Gould took the verdicts and the note to Judge Davis.

"We note that in your verdict you have also recommended clemency. We will bear this in mind when we are imposing sentence," the judge said.

Maximum penalty under the false fire alarms is $500 fine, two years in prison, or both.

"In relation to the note that the jury has sent, we will see that it is referred to the proper persons, as you have suggested," Judge Davis added. Then he continued, "I think the evidence in this case well merited the verdict you have brought."

"Is there any motion you wish to make?" the judge asked the defendants, and Reynolds moved for a new trial.

John G. Adams

Didn't Try To Bargain With Senator

By Ed Creagh

Washington (AP) — Army Counsel John G. Adams denied under oath yesterday he ever tried to buy off a McCarthy investigation of the Army by offering tips on homosexuality or subversion in the Navy or Air Force as "bigger bait."

This is one of the more serious charges hurled at Adams by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and aides. Calmly, in a day of rapid-fire cross-examination, the Army lawyer denied that one and also a volley of similar charges, among them:

One—That Army officials gave special treatment to Pvt. G. David Schine to curry favor with the McCarthy committee and halt its investigation of alleged subversive activity at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

Two—That Adams "leaked" to the press a series of charges against McCarthy aides—mainly against Roy M. Cohn—to block subpoenaing of Army Security—Loyalty Board members. Adams acknowledged, however, he discussed these charges with five newsmen.

Three — That Adams tried to sponge a free prize fight ticket from Schine and did accept free theater tickets from Cohn. Adams testified he paid Cohn back for the theater tickets and "I never asked Dave Schine for a stick of gum."

Four—That Adams tried to wrangle a $25,000 a year law partnership through Cohn. Adams said such a thing never was mentioned except in a "for amusement only" vein and he said Cohn knew this perfectly well.

The high-strung but low-voiced Army lawyer did accept the truth of one allegation—that he telephoned Maj. Gen. Kirke Lawton at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., and asked him to withdraw security risk charges against nine persons.

Adams said he did so because Pentagon screening officials felt there wasn't enough evidence against these individuals to justify a case before a loyalty-security board.

The meat of Adams' testimony came in a three-hour afternoon session, after he had freely acknowledged going out of his way to be nice to McCarthy staff members but insisted he did nothing to hamper their probe of alleged Communist infiltration in the Army.

Stevens Would Not Temporarily With McCarthy

By Robert S. Allen

Washington (AP) — Army Secretary Robert Stevens withheld urging for a whole day from Vice President Nixon to shorten the stormy Senate hearings.

Nixon stressed party unity and the need to strengthen President Eisenhower's hand both in domestic and foreign affairs. Nixon declared the hearings were damaging both the prestige of the country and the Administration.

Stevens would not budge. He contended it "would be a great mistake to temporize with McCarthy," and that the honor and sincerity of the Army is at stake. Stevens also pointed out with much feeling that with one exception he has received little public support from his Pentagon colleagues.

The exception is Assistant Defense Secretary Struve Hensel, who was assailed by McCarthy.

Fire Damages Two-Story Structure

Pocono — A two-story frame building formerly used as a garage was damaged extensively here at 12:15 p.m. yesterday when fire swept through the top section.

Tobyhanna Township Volunteer Fire Co. members extinguished the blaze and were credited with saving several other nearby structures.

The burned building is owned by Edward Judge. No estimate of damage was given, but Judge said efforts will be made to salvage as much of the building as possible.

It was reported that Judge was contemplating renovating the building into an apartment structure to accompany a cabin-camp he was starting.

One of the new cabins being built by Judge near the larger burned out building, was spared. An adjoining two-car garage owned by Pat Anthony was partially damaged.

The fire, reportedly originating on the roof, was believed started by sparks from a nearby trash fire.

Mother Finds Child Dead In Accordion Case

Detroit (AP) — Little Carol Timte was found suffocated yesterday in an accordion case, 14 hours after more than 250 searchers looked everywhere but in the living room of her suburban Farmington Township home.

Her grief-stricken mother, who wears a hearing aid, unknowingly sat only a few feet from Carol's tomb while the all-night search went on.

Mrs. Frank Timte discovered the body of her 2½-year-old daughter when she opened the case to put away her son's accordion.

State police said the youngster had crawled into the empty, black felt-lined case while playing with her toys on the living room floor. The lid fell, locking automatically.

Mrs. Timte, because of her poor hearing, never heard the child's muffled struggle although she was in the next room preparing supper. Carol, a curly-haired tot, had been missing since supper time Wednesday night. At first, Mrs. Timte sobbed, she thought Carol had toddled outside to play. The child didn't appear for supper.

Jury Reports Discrepancy Of Seven Cents In Bill

Court personnel began to wonder yesterday afternoon why a civil jury was out so long on a routine damage assessment case.

Plaintiff's counsel, George T. Robinson, had explained that all the jurors had to do was determine the amount of damages resulting from an auto accident.

Neither plaintiff Frido Bushman nor defendant George C. Smith was in court. The facts regarding the accident, and responsibility for the wreck, were not in question—only the damages had to be decided, Robinson said.

Warren Mikels of Mikels Motors, Stroudsburg, testified to the damages to the car. An itemized bill was entered in evidence. It totaled $250.03.

The whole procedure took about 10 or 15 minutes. The jury retired.

After about half an hour they came down again, smiling, to present their verdict.

Said foreman Letty M. Cooper:

"We find in favor of the plaintiff, in the amount of $249.96, for damages to the car. There was a discrepancy of seven cents, which we deducted from the itemized bill."

Delegates Arrive For Convention

Delegates began arriving late yesterday for their three-day circuit assembly at the new location of their Kingdom Hall, Milford Road, East Stroudsburg. Between 1,000 and 1,200 delegates are expected.

One of the early arrivals was Raymond L. Anderson, principal speaker and special representative from the Brooklyn headquarters of the Bible and Tract Society under whose auspices the convention will be held.

Mr. Anderson, an ordained minister of 12 years experience, has charge of the ministerial activities of Jehovah's Witnesses throughout the New England States, New York and Pennsylvania. A native of Montana, he graduated from the Montana State College in 1938 and began his career as a chemical engineer. After preliminary training, he became a full-time minister in 1942.

He is assisted in the work of the ministry by his wife who is also an ordained minister.

Mr. Anderson is scheduled to speak each day during the convention. At 3 p. m. Sunday he gives the featured talk on the topic "Is Civilization's End Near?"

Other speakers will come from Easton, Allentown, Bethlehem, Lehigh and Hazleton. Tomorrow morning Mr. Geuss will speak on "Bearing Witness to the Truth." All sessions of the convention will be open to the public. No collection will be taken.

Contract Talks Are Launched

Contract negotiations between Line Material Co., East Stroudsburg and Lodge 1800, International Association of Machinists, AFL, are now being held.

First meeting was held yesterday at the Penn-Stroud Hotel. Management representatives were Louis Parent, company attorney from Milwaukee, Wis.; Gilbert Sturz, plant manager and Richard Altomose, personnel manager.

Union representatives were Emerson Stanton, business agent for district 28, IAM; Edward Gordon, lodge president; William Pfeiffer, recording secretary; Charles Smith, night shift committeeman; Lloyd Williams, shop steward.

The next meeting will be held in mid-June, Stanton said last night. This conference will be carried on for two or three days, Stanton indicated.

Resort Group To Maintain Hungry Hill Monument As Point Of Tourist Interest

Mount Pocono—The Top of the Poconos Association has decided to become responsible for maintenance of the Hungry Hill Monument near Naomi Pines—a memorial to soldiers of Gen. Sullivan's Army who died there enroute to punish Indians for the Wyoming Massacre.

Restoration of the grave site, including erection of a masonry wall and other work around the monument was instituted years ago by a board of Monroe County commissioners consisting of Willard L. Quick, George E. Shick and Lawrence M. Ramsey.

The historic shrine is located on Route 45024 near Naomi Pines. In recent years there has been no maintenance of the plot, although the heavy wall and masonry steps erected by the late Samuel Werkheiser under a project sponsored by the commissioners is in good condition.

The association proposed to do some landscaping, mow the grass and continue to maintain the shrine in good condition so it will be attractive to vacationers who visit the area.

Announcement was made by President Jack Crandall the association is now incorporated.

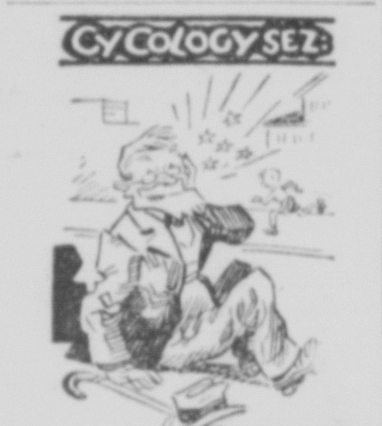

Berne Cramer, member of the board, announced that development of the YMCA project for the region has advanced to the advisory board stage. He said an activity for youth will be arranged by Fall.

Reports on Top of the Poconos advertising campaign showed "very satisfactory" response to this type of promotion. Members of the board in addition to Mr. Crandall are: Gerald Possinger, Paul Asur, Edmund Strickland, Elmer Shafter, Vincent April, Harry Taylor, Adolph Remko, Irving Platt, John Davis, Roger Miller, Alvah Morwin 3rd, Al Madden and Roy Dengler.

Creek Stretch Reserved For Young Anglers

Pocono Mountains Sportsmen's Association disclosed last night a plan to designate a section of Pocono Creek for youthful anglers and appealed to adults for cooperation with the program.

Beginning Sunday, members of the association will post signs on both sides of Pocono Creek from Scott and Ninth Sts. to the West Main St. bridge in Stroudsburg.

The signs ask adult fishermen to allow children 15 and under the privilege of using that stretch for fishing. Donald Gilpin heads the association as president.

A spokesman said the association members will make pools along the stretch to enhance the region for fishing.

Fish Stocking Begins Today

Mid-season fish stocking will begin today, according to Floyd Bachman, county fish warden.

An Act of Experience

The Top of the Poconos Association, a group of business and hotel interests ranging from the Mount Pocono area to Blakeslee Corners, had no hesitancy the other day in endorsing the Stroudsburg Businessmen's and Auto Club's stand for a thru-way bypassing Stroudsburg.

These people are fairly remote from Stroudsburg, yet they know from past experience that the traffic strangle in the borough is damaging to their respective operations.

They realize that the Ed Schmidt plan for maintaining a collision of Route 611 and Route 209 traffic on Main St.—but just two blocks West at Ninth and Main St. is not the answer.

Their resolution of endorsement of the Merchants' and Auto Club's plan calls for a "Thru-way bypassing Stroudsburg, connecting the new Delaware River Bridge with Rt. 611, thereby avoiding the congested traffic area in the Borough of Stroudsburg."

If the "congested traffic area in the Borough of Stroudsburg" is damaging to the Top of the Poconos interests, it is equally as damaging to the "Heart of the Poconos," the "Eastern Poconos," and an absolute blight on the Stroudsburgs.

Again, we want none of it. We must have a sound Thru-way bypassing Stroudsburg. A Thru-way based on sound engineering principles, not an expediency born of wilful favoritism.

On Family Counseling

The family service agency study report submitted Wednesday night to Children's Aid Society is so conclusive of the need for such a unit in this region it requires no further discussion.

Some 1,976 families in Monroe County have been found in need of such a service—a service designed to keep intact the normalcy of children, the unity and strength which American homes by tradition have had since the beginning of the colonization of this land.

The unity and strength of our homes have been the bulwark of every achievement in America. Basically, it has won our independence for us, won wars, defeated all types of crises, and formed the pattern for the position this nation now holds in the world.

It is the soundest foundation for beating the crisis thrust at our nation and the World by the Soviet Union.

A nation of happy, unified homes can beat anything and achieve anything from the community to the international level.

Let's get this family counseling agency in operation.

Today's Youth

Many harsh things have been written and said about today's youth. They are sloppy dressers, they have no manners, they drive recklessly, they are discourteous, they are loud.

So it is a genuine pleasure to read a news item from Mahomet, Ill., of the senior high school class, which is to be graduated in another month. The boys and girls had accumulated $800—no small achievement. And this $800 was going to be used to take the entire class on a pre-graduation trip of six days to the Ozarks.

However, a teacher's home burned down a few days ago, and the senior class held a meeting and voted to give the entire $800 to the teacher.

That's one of the most heart-warming stories we have read in a long time. It serves to make it clear to us that despite loud talk and recklessness and seeming discourtesy, today's youth is fundamentally and basically the same as every generation's youth—all right!

The Once Over

The Effect On The Home

(Being a monitored conversation at breakfast under the Washington influence.)

Wife.—It's a lovely morning, if I may say so. Is it not? I say that recognizing that this is in no way a reflection on other mornings.

Husband.—Will you repeat the question?

Wife.—I merely observed it was a nice morning and asked if you would concede it to be a fact.

Husband.—I have not been out yet and am not competent to give a flat opinion. Please pass the biscuits.

Wife.—I think the biscuits are inadvisable at this time.

Husband.—Let the record show your obstructive tactics. May I now inquire why my eggs are burned when you know I like them lightly cooked?

Wife.—I do not recall any such directive.

Husband.—I have had all conversations with regard to breakfast eggs monitored and I request that they be admitted as evidence.

Wife.—I would like to pass the matter of eggs for the time being and ask a question that calls for a yes or no answer. . . . do you wish more butter?

Husband.—There is no testimony that I wish more butter and I call attention to the fact I am using strawberry jam.

Wife.—Point of order! The fact you are using jam in no way refutes the fact you have been known to use both jam and butter.

Husband.—I must be getting to the office. Where are the keys to the car?

Wife.—I object to that question. It has not yet been established whether you or I use the auto today. Do you recall my telling you I would need the car to get to a bridge party at Mrs. Hooplegate's, as there is no bus line near her home?

Husband.—I show you a picture and ask if it is not a bus passing the Hooplegate residence?

Wife.—The bus is a phony. The residence is spurious. I call attention to the fact something has been clipped from the picture.

Husband.—Nothing has been clipped except Mrs. Hooplegate who has been eliminated through a ruling by the Attorney General that she constitutes restricted information and is top secret.

Wife.—If you're to get to work today and I'm to clean up and do the dishes this breakfast has got to be EXPEDITED!

Husband.—Ya nuan ya want this dispute to last forever?

ROAD TO MANDALAY

Robert S. Allen Reports

Dulles Makes Headway In Battle Against Red Drives

Washington—Secretary Dulles is making headway in his grim effort to block further Red aggression in Southeast Asia.

His urgent negotiations have produced one crucial advance.

Britain, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines and Thailand have tentatively agreed to guarantee a cease-fire in Indo-China.

That is, if they decide to go all the way with the U. S. on this fateful plan, then the six allies would be committed to resist any new Communist attack or upheaval with armed force.

A firm agreement of this kind is the crux of the NATO-type alliance the U. S. is seeking in the Pacific.

Dulles is withholding announcement of this momentous understanding at the request of Britain, Australia and New Zealand. That's why he went no further in his press conference statement than that the U. S. favors such a military guarantee. Actually, Dulles' discussions with the five allies have reached the point where their final approval rests on certain developments.

The first of them is whether an Indo-China armistice can be worked out with the cocky Reds. That's still highly conjectural.

Also, Britain is insisting on delay until the outcome of the embattled Geneva Conference is more discernible. On that position, Churchill has the vigorous support of New Zealand. The Australian government is taking a similar tack, but for another reason. It wants nothing said publicly until after the general election on May 28.

The Philippines and Thailand have consistently sided with the U. S. throughout the crisis. If and when the far-reaching guarantee is announced, it will be in the form of a joint declaration patterned after the one issued by the sixteen UN allies following the Korean truce.

That blunt warning to Red China and North Korea was published on July 27, 1953. The statement was actually arranged in 1952 by former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, but was withheld until the Reds agreed to the cease-fire in the Eisenhower regime.

While Secretary Dulles has scored this important progress, he has had no luck so far on another major proposal.

This is to limit French concessions to the Reds on a cease-fire.

Britain, Australia and New Zealand have flatly refused to go along on that. They contend it's unfeasible on two grounds: (1) The demand could not be imposed on the extremely shaky Laniel government, and (2) no restrictions should be put on the equally uncertain negotiations with the Communists.

Dulles is arguing the Laniel regime is so desperate for a deal in Indo-China that it's prepared to bow to terms that are wholly unacceptable to the U. S. But this view has not swayed the other allies.

Note: The State Department has already prepared a preliminary draft of the announcement on the armistice guarantee. This tentative declaration is under advisement by the other allies. In effect, it states: "We affirm our determination to see that the terms of the armistice are carried out, and we expect the other parties to scrupulously observe this agreement. . . . We declare, in the interest of world peace, that if there is a resumption of armed attack that again challenges the peace of Southeast Asia, we will resist promptly with united action. . . . The consequence of such a breach of the armistice would be so grave that it would not be possible, in all probability, to confine hostilities to Indo-China."

Another Round—Senate Democratic leaders are quietly lining up another solid party vote on a major issue.

This time it's on the Administration's slash in Army strength.

At a series of strategy meetings, Democratic leaders decided to wage a militant fight to provide funds for 19 divisions instead of the 17 recommended in the President's budget. The Democrats hope to repeat on this challenge their victory in sending back to committee the Administration's bill to review the Taft-Hartley Labor Act.

The battle to give the Army more money will be spearheaded by Senator Burnet Maybank (D-SC), senior member of the Appropriations Committee and long-time champion of a powerful military establishment.

Working closely with him are Senators Richard Russell, Ga., former chairman of the Armed Services Committee; Lister Hill, Ala.; Harley Kihore, W. Va.; and Warren Magnuson, Wash., members of the Appropriations Committee. They already claim a solid Democratic vote on this key Committee and if they can win over one Republican that will give them a 12 to 11 majority.

But regardless of what happens in the Committee, Democratic leaders are organizing a determined fight on the floor of the Senate.

For that purpose, they are planning to demand that General Matthew Ridgway, Army Chief of Staff, again come before the Appropriations Committee for questioning on the controversial budget. At a private appearance before the Committee last month, Ridgway voiced sharp disapproval of the proposed cut in Army strength. The Democrats want to re-emphasize his views in the hope of persuading some Republicans to join them.

Senator Maybank is telling colleagues he has been unable to confirm reports that the Administration is considering an upward revision of the Army's budget. Maybank says he has conferred with assistants of Defense Secretary Wilson and they denied such claims.

According to Maybank, the Pentagon officials declared all they want is restoration of the funds eliminated by the House. President Eisenhower recommended $8,211,000,000 for the Army, but the House voted only $7,615,000,000—a slash of $596,000,000. The Administration wants the Senate to put that money back, but that's as far as it is going on changes in the Army budget.

George Sokolsky Says...

GOP "Leadership" Must Do Better Than They Have Or Face Disaster In 1954

The Republican Party lost five Presidential elections, but maintained a sizeable following: 1932, 15,761, 841; 1936, 16, 679,583; 1940, 22, 304,755; 1944, 22,006, 278; 1948, 21, 970,065.

In some of these elections, it was clear from the votes for Governors and Senators that many Republicans were not voting for their party's candidate for President. Republican politicians have estimated that as many as 5,000,000 Republicans either did not vote for their candidate for President or stayed away from the elections. In the 1952 campaign, the Advertising Council and other bodies put on a campaign to ballyhoo the election, to get the citizens to vote. Dwight D. Eisenhower garnered a vote of 33,962,252, which not only was enormous but which gave evidence that many Democrats, particularly in Southern States, crossed party lines and voted for the Republican candidate for President.

But they did not cross party lines to vote for Republican candidates for Senators and members of the House of Representatives. Therefore President Eisenhower has had an inadequate working majority in either House. For some reason, not understandable to practical politicians, President Eisenhower and his strategists assumed that he could combine Republicans and Democrats in support of his leadership. However, whenever a vote has been taken, as recently in the matter of the Taft-Hartley Law, or actions in various committees of Congress, the Democrats have voted against Eisenhower with a discipline which was not evident when Truman was President.

On the other hand, the Republicans have shown no such discipline on unity since Robert A. Taft died. It would seem to be each man for himself. The Republican National Committee has lost its relationship to the rank and file of the party. While in the House of Representatives, the so-called "Leadership" does exercise a large measure of authority, in the Senate it is altogether missing.

The attempt of the "Leadership" to reduce the influence of Senator Joe McCarthy has failed to accomplish its goal and they now face the prospect of a running fight with him on the fundamental White House program, such as farm supports. This quarrel need not have been permitted to develop to its present proportions, producing damage only to the Republican Party and the President. The President's "old friend" advisers, John J. McCloy, Lucius Clay and Paul Hoffman, whatever their abilities, have no nexus with the rank and file of the Republican Party and they are being blamed increasingly for the Party's present troubles.

As the 1954 Congressional campaign approaches, hard-working Republicans are distressingly frightened. They frankly fear that they will lose this election; that the committee chairmanships will revert to the Democrats; and that Eisenhower will either become a captive of an antagonistic majority or will be forced to veto measures in Congress designed to hurt him and his Party.

The McCarthy-Stevens investigation has harmed the Republican Party equally among pro anti-McCarthyites. It is true that some Democrats were projected disadvantageously. For instance, Senator Stuart Symington may have spoiled his chances as a Presidential candidate. Senator John McClellan faces a tough primary fight in Arkansas. Senator Fulbright and former Governor Sidney S. McMath have joined forces against him. Fulbright supporting McMath. I was recently told in Memphis, Tennessee, that there is considerable New York money behind McMath. I do not know whether this is true or not, but a group of New York internationalists send money into states to fight anti-Communist Senators.

A Senator, under the Constitution, represents his state, not a coterie of busy-beavers who make their headquarters in the Waldorf-Astoria in New York and who secretly support candidates of their choice, for whom they cannot lawfully vote. If such a money-raising crowd is actually engaged in defeating Senator McClellan, it cannot be because they want the Republicans to win, which is impossible in Arkansas; it can only be because they want to pack the Senate.

The Republicans face the problem of saving themselves between now and November. If the present "Leadership" cannot do better than it has up to now, the election of 1954 could be disastrous.

As far as the television networks carrying that long-winded Army-McCarthy hearings are concerned, the program's theme song could well be that oldie, "Your Time in My Time."

A two-day Jefferson-Jackson rally is staged by Democrats in the national capital. One day for each?

The J and J Demo affair winds up with a $100-a-plate dinner. That's probably more than old Andy Jackson spent on vittles in a month.

Impressions from the McCarthy-Army hearings press table:

Joseph Welch, the Army's counsel, denies the legend that he writes poetry instead of doudling. His fans say he has a Gilbert & Sullivan flair. . . . Mr. Welch and actor Alan Mowbray are look-a-likes.

Sensor Symington reminds you of the Lyndecor drawings which feature young men displaying the latest things in collars and advets for suits. . . . Pretty Jean McKerrthy, wife of the Senator from Wisconsin, she is sometimes called, wore her honeymoon suit for the first time since the nuptials yesterday. The pockets of which still contained wedding rice. . . . GOP Senator Malone's wife hasn't missed a session. She frankly revealed she's in McCarthy's corner. . . . Senator Dwoorshak said one of his reasons for suggesting night sessions was that matinee factory workers ought to be able to witness the hearings over TV. . . . At an executive session including Counsel Welch heavy knocking on the door interrupted things. The visitor was a young lady who brought a huge box for Mr. Welch. "Oh, yes," he explained, "it's my tea" (Tea pot, cup and saucer, spoon, sugar, lemon and napkin). . . . Boston people describe Mr. Welch (a Repub) as a "Dever Democrat". . . . The rhubarb Tuesday over the mysterious person who requested that "rebuttal" be stricken out of Senator Diksen's motion didn't reveal this: Insiders say Mr. Welch is the person who insisted to Counsel Jenkins that the word be stricken. . . . Mr. Jenkins asked witness Adams (it went over radio and tv): "You mean you went to the men's room?" (We radio-TV people are not allowed to say that). . . . Shewie: How long is the Insp. Gen's report on Major 15th Amendment? Perms? . . . See? Stevens said he didn't know. Might be 500. . . . The figure is 691.

Ray Cohn's fan mail included an invitation from a Smith College spring to be her guest at the Spring prom weekend dance. . . . Her initials are (SK). She lives at Washburn House. . . . Cohn has two other invites for the same date. To address a Protestant Congregation in Los Angeles, and an American Legion Post. His problem: Which one would you accept? . . . Who says TV keeps people from reading? The new book, "McCarthy & His Enemies," jumped from 11 to 8 on the Best Seller List. . . . The James Julianas (he's ex-FBI, now McCarthy's ex-leuth) hope this one is a little guy. They have two sons. The FBI has enroute tap for each million population. This is with the U. S. Atty Gen's permit. "Secord" Jackson is the only Son who knows his TV etiquette. Blue suit and blue tie daily. . . . One observer summed it up: "The McCarthy's vs. The McCoddiers."

La Monroe's latest feat, A current long is completely devoted to Marilyn. It contains 127 photos of Miss Tuna. Shows every curve and dimple. . . . A noisy nothing with a toothy title is something called "Shula a Bop." Somebody goofed. . . . A June Silver Screen photo exposes Walter Colquhoun trading a long laugh with Sheshaiah Graham, the colymbus. . . . Patti Page's latest, "Steam Heat," merits a patti-cake. . . . The N.Y. Times movie critic boldly described Lana Turner's sholelectricity in a current cinema: "She shyly extends her antennae and gets under his skin." Dig that crazy antennae!

Mr. and Mrs. Tall Forehead should be mighty proud of NBC's "Princeton 54." It made the molecular theory seem downright entertaining. Well, almost. . . . Movieville seems to be recovering its financial stamina. A trio of films currently before the cameras will cost $4 million each. . . . Add show-offs: A new tune titled "Quest" So Que Cest? Translation: "I Would If I Could But I Can't." . . . Time mag's naive smile: As naive as training a telephoto lens on the firmament in the hope of catching a candid shot of God? . . . Gander Esquire's color portrait of Dorothy Dandridge. Beauty never had a more impressive illustration. . . . Piper Laurie's confession: "I had my first date when I was twelve years old." (Imagine wasting a dozen years.)

Bessie Love, the pulse-hopper of the nickelodeon era, has a supporting role in Ava's upcoming "Barfoot Contessa" film. . . . "Wonderful Town's" hit status has been certified by Alderman Atkinson. The critic took a second look at the show running for 15 months and enthused: "The best-written and best-performed musical comedy on Broadway." It must be good. . . . "The Naked Jungle" movie has an episode you'll see again in your nightmares: An army of ants stretching 2 miles devouring everything in its path. Happy Dracula and Merry Frankenstein. . . . Variety described the McCarthy-Army hearings as teevy's "latest soap-opera, long run, low rated and sexless."

Looking At Life —by Erich Brandeis

A letter came to me from Charlie Guy, publisher of the Lubbock Texas Avalanche—Journal.

It was stamped with a nice advertising message on it. You surely must have seen them.

This one bore the legend "Lubbock 1933 City Zone Population 105,794."

In the letter Charlie was telling me that he and Grace, his wife, were coming to New York and asked us to have dinner with them while here.

I asked him about that stamp. It seems to me, I said, that when I was in Lubbock three years ago the population was under 80,000. How come it had added almost 26,000 in 36 months?

Charlie looked at me with a superior sort of a smile and said, "26,000 is only a drop in the bucket." Then his eyes got dreamy and he predicted that within another 35 or 40 years Lubbock's population would exceed 250,000.

I was going to bet him that it wouldn't. But then I realized that in 35 or 40 years Charlie might not be alive to pay me 1 to collect. And I certainly didn't want my widow to go all the way to Texas to collect 25 cents.

But once again I realized something that Charlie had told me some years ago.

"Texas isn't a State," he had said. "Neither is it a country of its own, as so many Texans claim."

"Texas is a religion," And Texas is a religion. During the American Newspaper Publishers' conventions, such as the one that was held in New York last month, I always talk to a number of Texas publishers and editors.

You should see their faces light up when they talk about that state of theirs. I have never in my life seen a lot of people—not even the Californians—so proud of their slice of earth as the Texans.

They admit dust storms and hurricanes. "What's wrong with them?" they ask.

Medical Advances Discussed At Hospital Symposium Here

Over 50 medical men and women heard the latest advances in medicine at the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, yesterday during the annual post-graduate symposium.

Dr. M. J. Leitner, Monroe County Medical Society president, served as program director. He introduced three speakers who discussed various developments and showed slides.

Dr. Lowell A. Erf, assistant professor of medicine at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, addressed the group assembled in the dispensary for the afternoon party. His subject was "Blood Disease."

After dinner served in the hospital cafeteria the conference resumed with Dr. Merle M. Miller as the speaker. Dr. Miller, associate professor of allergy in the Graduate School of Medicine, University of Pennsylvania, explained the theories and diagnostics of allergies.

"Rheumatic Heart Diseases" was the subject of a talk by Dr. Louis A. Soloff, associate professor of medicine at Temple University School of Medicine.

Flowers given by members of Monroe County Garden Club were arranged by Mrs. J. F. Noonan.

Contracts Let By Eastburg School Board

East Stroudsburg School Board awarded contracts for finishing a junior high school room, for a fence around the school stadium and coal supplies last night. Board also adopted a $354,029.42 final budget.

Low bid for the East Stroudsburg High School football stadium fence was submitted by Anchor Post Products Co., Philadelphia. The Anchor bid was $6,049.

Contracts for finishing the junior high school room went to Paul Edinger, base contract for $1,793; H. L. Cleveland, heating, for $1,309, and Henry Peters, wiring, for $450.

A. Fred Treher Co. won the contract for supplying 70 chairs and desks to the school at a cost of $29.50 per set.

M. N. Warner, Reiders, was awarded the contract for coal supply (about 400 tons) at a cost of $10.96 a ton.

Directors gave final approval to the tentative budget submitted at their April meeting. The rates of 32 mills and $10 per capita were set for the coming year. "Taxation remains unchanged. (One five dollar per capita tax is assessed under regular school law; the second is set up through provisions of the "Tax Anything" law, Act 481.)

Financial report showed a balance of $42,573.79 in the general fund; $17,243.82 in two sinking funds.

Isaac Smith Held In Jail

Isaac Smith, 37, Saylorsburg, was committed to county jail yesterday on a warrant charging him with non-support.

Smith was booked at the jail about 12:45 p.m., an hour after the bench warrant was issued.

School Board Approves Vote On Union

Stroudsburg school directors voted last night to submit the question of union distributing to voters in November.

The borough board was the third, and last, of three boards considering the proposal. Stroud and Delaware Water Gap have both approved.

Meeting at Stroudsburg High School, directors passed a resolution to ask county commissioners to place the union proposal before voters at the coming general election.

If approved by voters of all three districts, the proposal would result in combination of the districts for school purposes.

Electrocution Results In $100,000 Suit

A $100,000 suit over the electrocution of a crane operator at Tobyhanna Signal Corps construction project a year ago has been filed in Monroe County court.

Attorney Forrest J. Mervine filed the suit on behalf of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dvorscha, of Pittston, parents of Joseph Dvorscha, the crane operator.

Defendants are Pennsylvania Power and Light Co.; Portchester Electrical Construction Corp. of New York; and Power Installation Co. Inc. of Pittston.

Actually there are two suits. Mr. Dvorscha and his wife, Clara, are suing for $50,000 in their own right; and as administrators of their son's estate, for another $50,000.

Their son was operating his crane during the construction phase of the depot project, when the boom of the crane either touched or came near a high tension wire, the complaint says. He was killed instantly.

Child Hurt As Car Hits Tree

A 10-year-old child suffered a compound left leg fracture last night near Wigwam Park when the car in which she was riding ran off the road and hit a tree.

The child was Sandra Cramer, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Cramer of Stroudsburg RD. Her brother and sister, Donald, 5, and Ginny, 7, were unhurt.

Driver was Ronald VanWhy, 24, Bushkill, according to Troopers Emil Weber and Evan Chaplin. He was driving on Legislative Route 45019 at 7:30 p.m.

A passenger, Edward Ace, 48, East Stroudsburg RD3, suffered a bruised left shoulder and chest.

Sandra was admitted to East Stroudsburg General Hospital. She was also under treatment for a brain concussion.

The "Stranger" Everyone Knows!

The big car eases out from the boulevard and comes to a soft, silent stop. A man steps out from behind the wheel and heads for his destination.

The license plate reveals him to be a person from another state—a "stranger," so to speak.

But the golden crest on the hood of his motor car tells everyone something about him. For it is the famous crest of Cadillac—and no man is wholly a stranger, wherever he be, when he drives this distinguished car.

Any owner can tell you, out of his own personal experience, that a Cadillac is a virtual "letter of introduction" for the man who sits at its wheel.

He becomes, in a sense, the "stranger" everyone knows—a member of the most distinguished motor-club fraternity in all the world.

This priceless aspect of Cadillac ownership is but one of the many rewards which come to the owners of Cadillac cars.

In fact, it might even be considered an extra dividend—for it comes in addition to the car's great and distinguishing beauty . . . its brilliant and inspiring performance . . . its magnificent comfort and luxury . . . and its remarkable economy of operation.

As a matter of fact, it would be a formidable task to recite even a basic portion of Cadillac's cardinal virtues for 1954—for the car is superlative in every respect and has been markedly advanced in every phase of appearance and operation.

Of course, it would take only an hour on the highway to understand what it all means in terms of pleasure and satisfaction—and that's why we suggest that you come in and see us—soon.

Why not make it today?

Pike County Teachers Laud Jointure Plan

Millford—The Pike County Education Association has gone on record as praising the members of five school boards who have joined to form the Delaware Valley Joint School District.

Congratulated "for their foresight" were the Delaware, Dickinson Township, Matamoras, Millford and Westfall boards. Several members of the boards attended the meeting, held at Matamoras.

The PCEA, a teachers' group, pledged their "fullest support and sincere cooperation with the knowledge that the new educational arrangement will be a source of pride and a valuable asset to Pike County in the years to come."

Dr. James Morgan, president of Mansfield State Teachers College, was the guest speaker. The theme of his talk was: "Education is a race between civilization and chaos."

He stressed the importance of teaching citizenship because education is the "bulwark of democracy." Teachers and parents have the responsibility of teaching young men and women to think and accept their roles in America and the world, he said.

Movings, Face - Liftings Noted Throughout Poconos

By James B. Gaffney

Spring cleaning—the time of year when the housewife orders her husband's brown into action, moves furniture in all directions, then settles on the original spot—has the same kind of mysterious get-up-and-go affect on the businessman.

Walk or drive on any thoroughfare in the Poconos today and you'll see evidences of new business, renovations and face-lifting.

Take the Fifth and Main St. section of Stroudsburg. The B. F. Goodrich store is moving to 735 Main St., and the former Ducklow Bros. store at 505 Main St. now is being converted into a new business — Pocono Army and Navy Store, Sporting Goods Center.

Edgar VanWhy, manager of the Goodrich store for the past four years, disclosed yesterday the transfer of stock to the front portion of Abelloff Motors.

Goodrich's new quarters, 48 by 24 feet, will provide more floor space, Van Why said. The same line of merchandise will be handled, including automotive supplies, tires, TV and radios, bicycles, electric appliances, refrigerators, washers and other items.

Van Why joined the store operations 10 years ago. Goodrich located in Stroudsburg in 1936, according to VanWhy, at the present store room, 502 Main St.

Abelloff plans moving his used cars to East Stroudsburg but will utilize the rear section of the Main St. building for car storage, temporarily.

Pocono Army and Navy Store, Sporting Goods Center is a new retail enterprise.

Ted Gross arrived here from Scranton to take over as manager and currently resides with his wife and daughter at 1510 Wallace St., Stroudsburg. He previously was affiliated with a wholesale dry goods business.

Gross said the store will open Saturday, but later will hold a grand opening. Merchandise will include all sporting goods, including wearing apparel, and hunting, fishing equipment, and other uniforms and supplies for all games. The store also will handle hunting and fishing licenses, Gross said.

Bill and Sophie Chariton also are in on the spring roundup. At Chariton's Lodge, East Stroudsburg RD 2, east of the borough on Rt. 209 they recently completed a new dining room in the northeast wing of their building.

Checkerboard News

by Carl Michaels

Should a farmer buy feed according to the ingredient tag? I'm often asked this. It's a mighty important question, and, thanks to the Purina Research Farm, I have the answer.

Three lot of pigs, uniform in size and weight at weaning were fed to 5½ mos. of age at the Purina Farm. Each lot was fed corn and a supplement. The supplements had identical ingredient tags, but the feeding results were different. One ration was a Purina ration, the other two were named Ration X and Y. . . . Hogs fed on Purina were ready for market at 165 days weighing 225 pounds. The Purina-fed hogs outweighed those on Ration Y by 62 lbs., and those on Ration X by almost 20 lbs. This is proof that the ingredient tag doesn't tell the whole story!

THIS WEEK'S HEALTH HINT
A lot of pigs are being weaned this month. We recommend that when your pigs are weaned they be wormed, too.

A lot of hog men in this area have found Purina Pigtab Granules an ideal method of worming. Pigtab Granules are effective, safe, cheap and easy to use. What more could you ask for?

Gulf Oil Corp. this week honored some 250 employees of its Philadelphia sales division at a banquet in Philadelphia.

Diamond and ruby lapel pins and engraved certificates were given employees who, during 1953, completed their first 10 years or a subsequent five-year term with the company.

Throughout the country this year Gulf is honoring 3,424 employees, C. W. Healy, Philadelphia division manager said. This augments the force of Gulf veterans to 16,625, or 48 percent of its workers in the nation.

Meadow Lake Fishing Club Holds Election

Burt Sylvester was elected president of the Meadow Lake Fishing Club this week during the annual meeting in the East Stroudsburg Elks Home.

Also elected are Horne LaBar, first vice president; John Wildrick Jr., second vice president; James S. Bunnell, secretary-treasurer, and George Englehardt, director.

It was reported excepting for minor repairs to the roads around the lake, the property is in excellent condition.

Cutting especially to persons annoyed because of eye muscle imbalances, which cause many disturbing visual conditions.

Jurisdictional Dispute Idles 70 Laborers

Tobyhanna—Seventy laborers walked off their jobs at the Signal Corps Depot here yesterday in what was termed a jurisdictional dispute.

Li, Col. George Svoboda, resident engineer, explained the walkout did not extend to other phases of construction and said no picket line was set up.

The dispute revolves around the question of what crafts are to do certain work, it was reported. All laborers are on the payroll of subcontractors working with Merritt, Chapman and Scott, the general contractors.

Col. Svoboda said the majority of unionized workers are employed by Triange Insulation Co., Philadelphia.

Robert Hilbert of Allentown, business agent for the laborer's union, said Wednesday he was under instructions to issue a walkout call yesterday if the dispute wasn't settled.

According to Hilbert the laborers contend three roofers were used in laboring endeavors. The work affected is centralized in two refrigeration units in two warehouses.

Col. Svoboda explained the interior of these refrigerators are being installed with insulation. Certain concrete floor work was allowed to continue following the walkout, he said, but instructions

Urgent Need For More Foster Homes Stressed At Annual Meeting Of Children's Aid Society

The need for foster homes to care for wards of the Children's Aid Society is "desperate."

In her annual report to CAS board members, executive secretary Mrs. Jean Albert stressed this point Wednesday night. Although some new homes were recruited last year, Mrs. Albert said, some older homes were forced to sever their relations with the CAS.

Without foster homes, Mrs. Albert declared, the CAS would be unable to carry on its "vital services to the community."

The annual report covered the period between May 1, 1953, and April 30 this year. Information included showed the following:

A total of 93 children from 48 families received service from CAS during the year. (This does not include families using the CAS as a consulting agency for adoption purposes.)

The agency actually cared for 69 children from 34 families during the year. During the period the agency answered out of town inquiries involving eight families and 11 children. The local CAS was asked to investigate and provide information in these cases.

New applications for care were received from 14 families with 28 children involved. The CAS accepted new children from eight other families for care during the year.

Among the "most encouraging" were to use only that concrete enroute to the depot from Stroudsburg.

and gratifying" developments for CAS during the year, Mrs. Albert said, were the children who were discharged from CAS care.

Six children, she said, were returned to their own parents following solution of family problems; two children entered training in institutions; three children reached the age of 18 and were given the right to "go on their own," and two were released to adoption.

Notable advances in the field of public relations were made during the year, Mrs. Albert noted. Chief among these was the initiation of a series of illustrated addresses showing the work of CAS.

In terms of service, Mrs. Albert said, "this year has proven one very valid point. That we have found several agencies working together can accomplish things which may seem impossible for one."

Mrs. Albert—and other CAS officials—emphasized the cooperation given the group by county commissioners, Judge Fred Davis and other agencies.

Mrs. Jesse Flory, board president, opened the meeting by expressing gratitude to the "Community Chest, of which CAS is a member agency. Mrs. Flory introduced Mrs. Frank L. Patterson Jr., board member and now chairman of the State CAS Advisory Committee.

In her brief address, Mrs. Patterson pointed out that the "big trend today" is toward the "multiple service agency." This type of agency would fill more than one need in the area of family problems within the community.

A major problem facing CAS today, Mrs. Patterson said, is whether the agency "can reach the family before a break-up occurs." (This general theme was treated in greater detail by Mrs. Claude Leister, guest speaker. Mrs. Leister was reporting on a Chest-appointed committee survey on the need for a "family service agency.")

Through agency consultation with distressed families, Mrs. Patterson continued, some problems might be solved before the family unit dissolved. This, in turn, would lower the area of responsibility for "displaced children."

Mrs. Patterson suggested that in other areas agencies have learned service should be provided for children within the home—while the home is still intact.

Board members elected to three-year terms at the annual meeting were: Mrs. Flory, Miss Elizabeth Martin, Mrs. T. F. Rhodes, Mrs. Joseph Williams, Mrs. Donald Gilpin, Mrs. R. Frederick Jones, Mrs. Adolph Rake and Mrs. Rufus E. Miller.

Around the World in Night Theme of Playground Benefit

Bangor—The Junior Women's Club of Bangor will present a Variety Show tomorrow night, May 15, at 8 p. m., at the Bangor High School auditorium. The proceeds of the show will be used to finance the club's project of the year. The club is building, as their project, an enclosed playground for small children at the Bangor Memorial Park. Work on the project is already under way and the playground is expected to be open for use on Memorial Day when the park officially opens for the summer months.

Title of the Variety Show being presented is "Around the World in a Night." The first setting is New York and presents a song and dance chorus. Dominic Casciano, Joseph D'Imperio, Arthur Castellucci, Russell Brown, Marjorie Owens, Joanne Mackintosh, Jean Pritchard and Shirley Matlock make up the dance chorus. The song chorus, singing "Bell Bottom Trousers" will consist of Betty Jane Sweet, Janet Jones, Anita Williams, Peggy Smale, Miriam Wallwork and Cornell Wallwork.

Scene II—Ireland—will feature a song, "A Little Bit of Heaven" by Peggy Smale, and an Irish jig by Mrs. Johnnie Gruver, who is also directress of the dance choruses.

Scene III—Paris—will feature a fashion show, the chorus singing "The Last Time I Saw Paris," and a vocal solo by Cornell Wallwork. "The Song from Moulin Rouge." Taking part in the fashion show are: Margaret Brown, Betty De Paolo, Joanne Mackintosh, Jean Pritchard, Betty Jane Sweet, Charlotte Heard and Mary Miller.

The next scene will be a Spanish setting with a specialty dance "Fandango" by Rena Diet and a song, "Lady of Spain" by Diane Casciano.

Italy will be the next setting for the fourth scene featuring a marimba solo by Eleanor Mengel and a vocal solo, "Italian Street Song" by Betty Liquori.

The first scene of the Second Act of entertainment will provide a "Mexican Hat Dance" by Leland Gruver, a vocal duet, "Vaya Con Dios," by Miriam and Cornell Wallwork. The chorus will also sing "South of the Border." In the Hawaiian number, Janet Jones will sing "Blue Hawaii" and Betty Liquori, "A Flower Like." The chorus will also render a number and a hula dance will be performed by Kay Reimer.

Several children will take part in the show in the final scene of Act II. Trying for movie auditions in sunny California are Cynthia Triguani with a recitation; Terry Miller and Kathy Wallwork, vocal solos; Linda Matlock with a ballet and Winifred Smith, a tap dance, and Walter and Charles Cole in a vocal duet.

Act III will present a Gay Nineties Revue with Russell Brown as master of ceremonies. A skit "Faint Heart Never Won Fair Lady" by Charles George will be presented. In the cast will be Janet Brown, Betty De Paolo and William Jones. A vocal quartet of Gordon Roberts, George Shook, Donald Shook and Robert Albert will be seen as "The Singing Waiters." The chorus and duet of Miriam and Cornell Wallwork will also be featured.

YMCA Rummage Sale

The YMCA Mothers Club is sponsoring a rummage sale to be held this Friday and Saturday at 334 Main St., Stroudsburg.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

"Oh, how lovely is the evening," people went around singing yesterday, a fact they might not have noticed so sharply, if it hadn't been for the series of miserable evenings we have been having, weatherwise.

We could stand a repeat performance for the prom tonight, by the way. All those long dresses, all those rented dinner jackets would suffer in a rainstorm, I fear.

But speaking of the prom, and the parental discussion entering around what may they do afterwards, Mrs. George Wakefield called to our attention an article about what another town had done under similar conditions.

Seems they were galvanized into action by a serious accident involving a group of high school students from the neighboring town who'd gone into the city after the prom. So, they organized a "We Won't Get Home Until Morning" community enterprise.

The theaters held a special showing, free to all the kids, right after the prom. Then the Legion Auxiliary opened the armory, hired a square dance band and stocked up on soft drink and pretzels and invited them all in.

Whole night would wrap up with the churches serving breakfast of

Fire Co. Aux. To Work On Cancer Dressings

Mount Pocono—At a monthly meeting of the auxiliary of the Mount Pocono Fire Company on Tuesday night it was announced by Mrs. Ray Simmons, chairman of the committee for cancer dressings, that work will be resumed on Friday night at 7:30 at the hall and all ladies are invited to assist in this project.

Mrs. Gerald Possinger presided, with 26 members answering to roll call, and one guest, Mrs. Poff. Mrs. Theresa DePalma was welcomed as a new member.

It was decided to change the time of the meetings to 8:30 during the summer months with two to be held in June, on the 8 and 22, in order to make plans for the annual carnival.

Hostess committee for June: Mrs. Rose Groner, Miss Esther Foley, Miss Agnes Hans, Miss Lulu Fanseen and Mrs. Richard DeHaven.

A social hour followed the business meeting and refreshments were served by Mrs. George DeHaven, Mrs. Kenneth Miller, Mrs. Delano DeSanto and Mrs. Norman Fanseen.

Bazaar, Rummage At Firehouse In Tannersville

Tannersville — Pocono Grange No. 1415, will hold a bazaar and rummage sale on Saturday, at 2 p. m., and continue until all articles are sold. This affair will be held in the firehouse.

All the good cooks of the Grange are donating cakes, pies, cream puffs, salads, baked beans, etc., for the bake sale table and chicken barbecue sandwiches and coffee will be on sale.

Many articles have been donated for the rummage sale and aprons, hankies, crocheted articles are ready for the fancy work table.

Margaret Burkholder is chairman in charge of this affair and she asks the co-operation of all Grange members in donating volunteer service.

All friends of the Grange members are invited to this bazaar.

Daily Vacation Bible School To Open In June

Tannersville — Officers of District 3 of the Monroe County Sunday School Assn. met at the home of Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Edward T. Horn to complete plans for the Daily Vacation Bible School which will open June 14 at the Pocono Township High School.

Rev. William E. Foose, pastor of the Tannersville Reformed Church parish, is dean of the school. Further details of the arrangements for conducting the school will be announced.

Officers present at the meeting were: R. M. Frantz, president; Rev. and Mrs. LeRoy Bernard, Rev. Foose, Mrs. James Campbell Jr., Mrs. Robert Frailey, Mrs. B. H. Granacher, Mrs. E. J. Gerhardt, Walter H. Sebring and Rev. and Mrs. Horn.

D. E. Leonard Married In Tobyhanna

Tobyhanna — Miss Ethel Joyce Theodore, daughter of Harry Theodore, of Port Jervis, N. Y., and Petty Officer Donald Eugene Leonard, son of Mrs. William C. Leonard of Tobyhanna, and the late Mr. Leonard were married on May 8 at 10:30 a. m. at St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church, Tobyhanna.

Rev. George J. Adams performed the ceremony and officiated at the nuptial mass which followed.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white marquisette over lace, in a ballerina length with a sweetheart neckline and matching stole. She wore matching gauntlets and a tiered veil caught in a pearl and rhinestone tiara. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses, valley lilies and gardenias with a cascade of ribbons in which blossoms were caught.

Miss Pauline Graziano of Port Jervis was the maid of honor. Her gown was the same as that of the bride in style, and was of orchid marquisette with matching stole. She wore a Juliet cap with a veil and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and orchid gladiolas.

William Leonard Jr., brother of the bridegroom, served as his best man.

The altars were banked with white gladiolas and fern. Miss Elizabeth Leonard was organist and Mrs. George Atkin was soloist. She sang "Ave Maria," "On This Day," "Pans Angelicus" and "Mother at Your Feet in Kneeling."

The bridegroom's mother wore a green and white print dress with brown accessories and furs and a corsage of yellow roses.

A wedding breakfast for the immediate families and a reception for 100 guests was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Leonard Jr., Lakeside Drive, Tobyhanna. The bride's table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake and floral centerpiece with candelabra. A three-piece orchestra composed of Loretta Bausher, Sheldon Bernbaum and Samuel Litts played for the reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard are now on a tour of the Southern states. For traveling, the bride wore a lavender linen dress with white coat and accessories.

A graduate of Port Jervis High School, Mrs. Leonard is employed by Kolmar Laboratories, Port Jervis. Mr. Leonard is a graduate of Coolbaugh Township High School, Pennsylvania School of Watchmaking, and the Inter-Communications School of the U. S. Navy, Chicago. He is a petty officer with the U. S. Navy stationed at the New London Submarine Base, New London, Conn.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included those from New London, New York and Maryland.

Presbyterian Women Hold County-Wide Meeting

More than 100 women, representing the five Presbyterian churches of the county, attended the second annual Presbyterian meeting held at the Shawnee Presbyterian Church on Tuesday.

Mrs. Floyd Strunk, Synodical was the chief speaker at the meeting. "Coal, Cotton and the Carolinas" was the theme of her talk, illustrated with colored slides. She told of the depressed coal regions around Whitesfield, W. Va., where the missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. Wolf are working to raise the level of living; of Bogs Academy, a Negro school with 200 students in Georgia; Barbara Scotia College for Negro girls and Harbison College for Negro boys and girls which combine academic courses with agriculture; and Warren Wilson Jr. College in the Carolinas which also combine academic and farming courses.

She was introduced by Mrs. Paul Crown of the Shawnee Church. Representatives of the Shawnee, Middle Smithfield, Delaware Water Gap and Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg churches all took part in the program.

Afterwards, the East Stroudsburg women served refreshments in the parish hall. The table centerpiece featured a lighted globe of the world surrounded by white lilies, ajuga and cactus bloom from the garden of Mrs. W. R. Erickson who was assisted in the arrangement by Mrs. Elwood Grant.

Both the church and the hall had been decorated by Mrs. Sterling Walter of Shawnee with branches of white and pink dogwood and purple lilies.

Hamilton 4-H Club Elect Officers For Year Ahead

Sciota — The meeting of the Hamilton 4-H club was held at the home of Ray Kress, club leader, this place. The meeting opened with Luther Zimmerman, assistant county agent, in charge.

Officers elected for the coming year follow: Glenn Detrick, president; Fred Rinker, vice president; Harry Singer, secretary-treasurer, and Donald Kress, club reporter.

There was a discussion of 4-H projects for the coming year and project books were distributed. A film, telling of the spirit behind 4-H work was enjoyed. Following musical entertainment and playing of games, the meeting was adjourned.

Italian Club Will Serve Spaghetti Supper

The Italian Mutual Benefit Association Auxiliary met Wednesday night at the club. Plans were made for a spaghetti supper to be served Thursday night, June 17. The public is invited.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the hostesses, Billy Lorenzetti, Clara Lombardi, Ruth Margretta, Mary Murglin and Antoinette Pancy.

Mothers Are Honored At Tannersville

Tannersville—Mother's Day was observed at the Tannersville Methodist Sunday School on Sunday morning with a special program again at night. Each mother was presented with a plant, and the youngest mother with the largest family with a bouquet of flowers.

Mrs. Frances Besecker directed the program which included old-time hymns; the Scripture reading by Mrs. Myles Dailey; offering received by two mothers, Mrs. Horace Haish and Mrs. Albert Besecker; duet, Mrs. Fred Anglemeyer and Mrs. Richard Howell, "To Serve My Mother's God."

A Mother's Day welcome was given by Johnny Smiley, and a recitation by Dottie Hay, Nancy Besecker, Carl Besecker, Beverly Transe, Marie Besecker. There were duets by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Werkheiser; Mary Transe and Nancy Besecker; Dottie and Joyce Hay; a saxophone solo by John Frailey, accompanied by Elizabeth Frailey; a tribute to mother by Mrs. Estelle Granacher, and a message by the pastor, Rev. LeRoy Bernard.

Girl Scouts At Skating Party

The Girl Scout Intermediate Troops of Monroe County held a skating party at the Stroud skating rink Tuesday night. There were 12 troops represented by 104 girls who participated in the outing.

One of the features of the night was the numbers race which was won by Laura May Hall, of Stroudsburg.

Another contest was termed the Blue races in which children included in ages from 10 to 14 years took part. The winners in the varied age groups follow: Mary Jane Gilpin and Nancy Sullivan, of Stroudsburg; Bonnie Osborne and Jane Drum, of East Stroudsburg, also Nancy Sterner.

Adults who acted as chaperones were: Miss Edna Eife, Mrs. Margaret Larkin, Mrs. Edith Flory, Mrs. Freda Balmer and Mrs. Mildred Munson.

WCTU Tonight

The East Stroudsburg Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet tonight at 7:30 at the home of Miss Christine Christensen, Ransberry Ave.

GOOD EVENING!

One of the several places one can go for an enjoyable evening outside of Stroudsburg is ONAWA LODGE, on Route No. 90, in Mountainhome, only 16 easy driving miles from the Boroughs.

Get away from the "usual routine" and benefit from a cool evening with friends in a congenial atmosphere. The Onawa Trio is now playing for dancing on Friday nights without any special charge or minimum charges, and the quality of the food and beverage service is comparable to that which you are accustomed to in any first class hotel.

Dinner is served daily between 6:30 and 7:30 P.M. (D.S.T.). An attractive Cocktail Hour, featuring special canapés, begins at 5:30 P.M. (Bar is closed on Sundays.) A choice of entrees is provided and reservations for Dinner are suggested but not a requisite. Further information may be obtained by calling Cresco 3311.

We firmly believe that you will tell your friends about the nice time you had at ONAWA LODGE. The Pocono Playhouse will not open until later on, but after Dinner you might enjoy seeing the scheduled motion pictures at nearby Buck Hill (usually Mon.-Wed.-Fri.-Sat.) Enjoy an evening "away from town" at a nominal expense. We invite you to join our guests for cocktails and a wonderful dinner.

Come on up and bring your friends. Enjoy a different "night out."

Mrs. Kingsley President Of Pl. Parenthood

Mrs. John Kingsley was elected president of the Planned Parenthood Committee at the annual supper meeting held May 11 at the home of Dr. Charlotte Jordan.

Other officers elected included Mrs. Russell Eschback, vice president; Mrs. Huntington Carter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Earl Willhoite, recording secretary; and Mrs. A. Greenwald Gearhart, treasurer.

Mrs. Neal Coberly presided at the meeting when reports were given by Mrs. A. Byrd McDowell and Mrs. Frederick Jones on the annual meeting of the national federation held at the Waldorf Astoria. They reported in detail on the workshops on "Public Acceptance of Planned Parenthood" and "Marriage Counseling," and the speech given by Dr. Rock, Harvard gynecologist, on "Sterility."

In addition to those mentioned above, those present included Mrs. Harold Flagler, Miss Elizabeth Martin, Mrs. David Mazer, Dr. Charlotte Jordan and as a guest, Dr. Claus Jordan.

The local Planned Parenthood Clinic is open to all married women in the county with fees based on ability to pay.

Birthdays, Anniversary Mark Party

Mount Pocono — A party was held at the home of Miss Myrtle Koerner, of Mount Pocono. There were three birthdays to celebrate: that of Mrs. Eva Schauler, Mrs. Adelaide Engle, and of Nancy Oney. There was also a second wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Phillips to celebrate.

Sandwiches, cake, ice cream, soda, coffee and candy were served. Other guests included the hostess, Miss Myrtle Koerner, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schauler and family, Shirley and Lloyd Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Kresge and children, Olive Jane, Connie Sue and Sheldon Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Richard Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Kresge, Mrs. Charles Engle Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Steele, Mrs. Emma Dyson and Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Engle Jr. and Patsy Ann.

Miss Borger Is Bride Of M. P. Beers

Kunkletown — Miss Annabelle Borger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Borger, of Kunkletown, and Martin Perry Beers Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin P. Beers, of Kunkletown were married on Saturday, May 9, at 2:30 p. m. in the parsonage of the Kunkletown church by Rev. Adan A. Bohner.

The bride wore a dress of canary yellow linen with a corsage of tea roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Frantz of Saylorsburg, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were attendants. Mrs. Frantz wore a coral nylon dress with a corsage of white roses.

A reception was held in their honor on Saturday night at the Greenzweig's Hotel, Kunkletown. Mr. and Mrs. Beers will make their home at the home of the bride's parents. They both attended Eldred Township Schools. The bride is employed at Scotty's Fashion Mill, Little Gap, and the bridegroom by Reading Railroad.

Abbie Frisbie President Of Local 4-H Club

A large group of new members was received by the 4-H club which met Wednesday, May 20, at the home of the leader, Mrs. Walter Weber, 438 Oakwood Ave., Stroudsburg. Officers were also elected. Miss Margaret MacLaren was in charge of the meeting.

The new members are: Arlene Weber, Abbie Jane Frisbie, Betty Lou Sebring, Sylvia Keller, Elaine Oney, Dianne St. Bonnet, Carol Dildine, Shirley Weber, Patricia Tucker, Bonnie Yost, Anne Dennis and Jean Douglas.

Those are the officers elected: President, Abbie Jane Frisbie; vice president, Betty Lou Sebring; secretary, Carol Dildine; treasurer, Sylvia Keller; reporter, Arlene Weber; song leader, Elaine Oney, and game leader, Dianne St. Bonnet.

The group chose sewing as their project. In this connection, the next meeting will be in the nature of a field trip when the members will visit local stores to pick out fabrics and patterns to sew on.

Young People Plan Birthday Supper in June

The Young People's Society of St. Matthew Union Church, Kunkletown, met in the church basement on May 4 to discuss plans for a birthday supper to be held June 26.

Devotions were in charge of Marlene Christman. Following devotions, the president, Kay Greenzweig, took charge of the meeting. Committees were appointed to plan skits for each month of the year for the birthday supper.

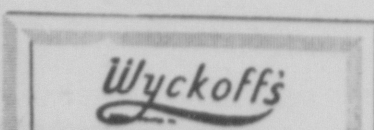

A committee was also appointed to be in charge of next week's devotions. After the collection was held, the meeting was adjourned.

Remember the best selling novel of a few years back about "My Brother Who Talks To Horses"? Jerry Hinton of our Sears store has been well high hysterical these past few days, after discovering that the little lady in one of our offices speaks to cows. "She always says 'Hi-how are you' to a cow that stares at her on her way home from work," Jerry recounts. "Ask her why, and she makes her eyes real wide and says, 'Because-I can't think of anything else to say to a cow, can you?'" Well, Jerry, we might point out that any question at all may be moo-ise to the ears of a lonely bovine. Isn't that right, Mabel Anderson?

To Mrs. Ernest Wyckoff went the honor of selecting a name from the entrants in our "Suspicion" contest and the lucky young woman is Dorothy Austin, a registered nurse, residing at 274 Normal street. "Just my luck," mourns a young father who purchased "Suspicion" for his wife this Mother's Day and entered her name "just in case." "Oh your luck is all right," a co-worker reminds him. "Your wife loved her perfume. My wife would have brained me, if I'd handed her anything with a name like that." Maybe he has a point there—but it's still a wonderful fragrance . . . From Chattanooga, Tennessee, comes a card from Betty Frantz who's enjoying a vacation with her folks. We miss her, of course, but Fran Meredith and Jean Decker are handling our store displays during her absence and we look beautiful as ever . . . Cutest item for the very young woman's intimate wardrobe, is the Can-Can negligee in our Teens department. Just Can't Can't look at them without thinking in terms of my little girl and yours . . . "Noa Noa" the new Helena Rubinstein fragrance with the Tahitian name was pictured on the social page of yesterday's New York Journal and American. The words mean "so very fragrant," and women in all walks of life are welcoming this as a perfect cologne for spring and summer. My only comment is "Yes, Yes!"—translated it means, "but definitely" . . . The mail also brings a letter from Mrs. Victor Taylor, one of my favorite people, who is now vacationing in Richmond, Virginia. Mrs. Taylor expresses appreciation of the columns about Mr. Wyckoff who is "all you said and more." Do come back soon, Mrs. T. — we miss seeing you around our store . . . A head on a platter is quite an attractive thing these days—particularly when it's a portrait of the duke of Holland painted in delft blue on a big, round china piece suitable for hanging on the wall. At first glance I thought he resembled William Penn.

In any case, he's a handsome gentleman, who gazes down with friendly eyes. Hanging above the mantle, he'd be a pleasant addition to a room—a veritable "wallmark" of quality . . . If you're in the market for furniture, why not visit our Sears store. You'll find all of the newest wood finishes, as well as the latest in upholstery fabrics. "There was a time, the manager stated recently, "when we carried only the usual—and everything was green, as I recall. Just a sea of green all around as you looked over the display. But now we're carrying everything, catering to contemporary tastes in colors as well as styles." That's the truth too—but maybe you'd like to see for yourself. Come in!

Walkout Continues At Camp

Marshall's Creek — Picketing entered its second day at Camp Happy near here yesterday as work on the City of Philadelphia's $117,000 summer camp was halted in a dispute against employment of two non-union laborers.

Charles Frank, Stroudsburg contractor, said he made several attempts during the day to contact someone from the Building and Construction Trades Council to learn why the picketing was on duty.

Frank said no one has contacted him in an effort to negotiate the work stoppage which union officials have said resulted from Frank's employing the two non-union laborers.

Stuart Pipper of Tannersville, Building Trades Council president, said last night he has arranged a meeting with Frank for 9 a.m. Saturday to negotiate.

Pipper related at the outset of picketing the action was "for organization purposes."

Forty workers, including electricians, plumbers, carpenters and other craftsmen are affected by the job stoppage.

Mobile Unit X-Rays 387

Free X-rays were given to 387 county residents yesterday. The number brought total number of persons X-rayed to 5,825.

The mobile unit stopped at three points during the day. At the Saylorsburg Fire Hall 81 persons were X-rayed. At Kregoville Manufacturing Co., Midway Pines, 56 persons were registered.

In two sessions at Clearview School the unit X-rayed 150 residents. Today the unit stops at East Stroudsburg Municipal Building for three separate sessions: from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.; from 2:30 to 5 p.m., and from 7 to 9 p.m.

Saturday the unit will stop all day in Stroudsburg, in front of

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

One of the reasons Slatington is leading the Lehigh Valley League with a record of five wins and no losses is the pitching of Dick Nissen. But another reason for the lofty perch of the Slaters is the hitting of this same Mr. Nissen. Including last Friday's game Dick was hitting at an unofficial clip of .509, as is Stan Nemeth of Catasquiqua. After four games Karl Weingartner was the top Stroudsburg batter with five safeties in 14 trips to the plate for a .357 mark. Karl improved his average against Northampton on Tuesday of this week.

Nissen has been credited with each of Slatington's victories thus far this season. George Helm actually pitched a no-hit game for Wilson Borough against Fountain Hill on Tuesday, but it won't go into the record books. Helm, who has been flitting with no-hitters all season, relieved starter John Tinsman, who gave up a double and single before retiring a batter in the first frame. Helm rolled through nine full innings without giving up a safety, but can't be credited with an official no-hitter because he didn't work the entire game.

The Monroe County League, at least its members and teams, may be sorry if the new backdrop isn't erected on the Gordon Giffels field softball diamond in the very near future. Members of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College baseball team are still talking about an unassisted double play turned in by Bob Hartman against the University of Scranton under the lights on Tuesday night. The hard hitting first sacker made a brilliant grab of a hard hit line drive inches off the ground and stepped on first to catch the runner off the bag. The ESSTC baseball squad, currently featuring a mark of five wins and the same number of defeats, has only two games remaining on its schedule.

George "Dutch" Snyder, pitcher with the Lake Harmony entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, hurled for the Lehigh Valley American Legion club several seasons back. Jim "Buck" Rader, a member of the Lake Harmony club last season, is now playing with Parris, Ill., of the class "D" Mississippi-Ohio Valley League. Rader is now the property of the New York Yankees. The annual Lehigh Valley League track meet will be held at Palmerton on Saturday. Stroudsburg High doesn't have a track squad.

Schools taking part in the event are Whitehall, Palmerton, Lehigh, Northampton and Emmaus. Art George, Palmerton basketball star, is being billed as the man most likely to set a new record in the discus event on Saturday. The present mark is 124 feet. Gregory Wall, Art's three-year-old son, reportedly stole the show from his famous golfing father during the "Welcome Home" celebration given in honor of Art at Honesdale on Tuesday night. The youngster really got into the swing of things.

Bands, flashing lights, speeches and receiving the key to the city all became highlights of the fine tribute to Honesdale's favorite son. Three graduates of the now defunct class "D" North Atlantic League figured in the major league news on Wednesday. Jim Lemon was sold by the Cleveland Indians to the Washington Senators and Ron Mrozinski was optioned by the Phillies to Syracuse, of the International League. Carl Sawatski drew a walk with the bases loaded to force home the only run of the game and give the Chicago White Sox a 1-0 decision over the Boston Red Sox.

Mrozinski, a pitcher and resident of White Haven, hurled for Carbondale when a member of the NAL. Lemon, an outfielder, and Sawatski, husky catcher, were teammates on the Bloomingdale, N.J. club, when the latter was a member of the North Atlantic League. A lot of work has been done on the racing surface and grounds of Stroudsburg Speedway and the half-mile dustless dirt track located near the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Airport, is expected to be in tip-top condition for opening night, Saturday, May 22. Many of the same outstanding drivers who appeared at Monroe County's only speedway last season will be on hand once again this summer.

Red Sox Pound Orioles, 9-1

Baltimore (AP)—The Boston Red Sox, plagued by weak hitting up to now, exploded an 11-hit attack on the Baltimore Orioles and trounced the Birds 9 to 1 last night before 12,564 fans.

Mountaineers In Final Home Game

Stroudsburg High school will take part in its final home baseball game of the present season today when the Mountaineers play host to Emmaus, at Gordon Giffels field. The contest is slated to get underway at 4 p.m.

Emmaus and Stroudsburg are currently tied for fifth place in the Lehigh Valley League standings with two wins and three setbacks.

Stroudsburg is fresh from a 4-3 victory over Northampton, the only loss inflicted on the Konkrete Kids thus far this season.

Dick Shuster, hard working right handed hurler and captain of the club, will again toe the rubber for the Mountaineers.

Lineup
Ray Singer will handle the catching chores, while Dale Newhart holds down first base; Paul "Doc" Lim, second base; Karl Weingartner, shortstop; Dick "Pickles" Hintze, third base; Dave Nevil, left field; Howard Miller, center field, and either Francis "Fritz" Hasara or Bill Carson, right field.

Bob Rogers will be the relief pitcher for the Mountaineers if his services should be required. Stroudsburg winds up the campaign at Pen Argyl on Tuesday and at Catasquiqua next Friday.

Raph Captures Speed Trophy

Bangor—Larry Raph, junior southpaw pitcher on the Bangor High School baseball team, won the speed-of-meter test held here at Memorial Park on Wednesday. Raph was credited with a pitch of 75.8 miles per hour by the electronic clocking device.

Raph equalled the fastest time held in the Lehigh Valley set earlier by Bethlehem's Bill Davis. Both will take part in the final tournament at Breckon field, Allentown, on Saturday, June 26. Raph received a trophy for Wednesday's win.

Second
Ed Mugavero, who doesn't play baseball, was second on Wednesday with a heave of 75 miles per hour. Rodney Taylor, Bangor's ace southpaw pitcher, was third with a toss of 72.4 miles per hour. A total of 11 boys took part in the contest.

Bangor Meets Pen Argyl

Bangor—Bangor High meets an arch enemy in the baseball wars today when the Slaters oppose Pen Argyl, on the latter's home field. The Lehigh-Northampton League struggle is scheduled to get underway at 4 p.m.

Both Bangor and Pen Argyl will enter today's game with identical records of one win and five setbacks.

Pitcher
Rodney Taylor, senior southpaw, is expected to do the pitching for Bangor today.

Yankees Win On Berra's Blow, 5-3

Detroit (AP)—"Yogi" Berra clouted a two-run homer deep into the upper right field deck in the 10th inning last night to give the New York Yankees a 5-3 victory over the league-leading Detroit Tigers before 50,916—the largest crowd of the major league season.

Sixth Homer
The squat Yankee catcher unloaded against relief pitcher Ray Herbert for his sixth home run, tops in the American League.

"Hank" Bauer had opened the inning with a single to right, and he rode home as Berra sailed the ball into the seats about 400 feet away.

East Stroudsburg High To Feature New Faces In Today's Baseball Game With Fountain Hill

East Stroudsburg High school's baseball lineup will take on a new look today when the Cavaliers collide with winless Fountain Hill, on the latter's home field. The Lehigh-Northampton League contest is slated to get underway at 4 p.m.

Coach Jack Kist announced last night that he will have to fill two vacancies in the outfield due to the fact that Don Herman and Bob "Red" Kupiszewski will be out of the lineup today because of minor injuries.

Herman is hampered by a slightly injured right foot and Kupiszewski is still limping because of a pulled leg muscle.

Bill Sommers, regular pitcher, will replace Kupiszewski in left field and Charley "Snooky" Litts, regular right fielder, will take over for Herman in center field. John Myra, reserve catcher, will handle the right field duties. Litts was absent from school yesterday and if he is absent today Helmut Gartner will take over in left and Sommers will move to center.

Gary Peckman will open in the pitching department for the Cavaliers, while Bob "Booster" Miller handles the catching chores. Bill Pinsky will anchor first base duties, while Dick Gray is at second; Harold White, shortstop, and Gene Plaza, third base.

East Stroudsburg's current mark is three wins and two defeats, while Fountain Hill has yet to win in four attempts thus far this season.

East Stroudsburg Teachers Honor Varsity Letter Winners

East Stroudsburg State Teachers College held its annual "Letter Award" program in the college auditorium yesterday, at which time 176 varsity athletes were honored for the 1953-1954 athletic season.

Charley Shaw, president of the athletic council, was in charge of the gathering. Shaw, a winner in both football and baseball, gave a brief summary of the athletic year, pointing out the fact that to date varsity teams at ESSTC had won 53 per cent of their contests and that 489 candidates had reported for the various varsity athletic squads.

Remarks
Captains of the various teams were seated on the stage and each made short comments on the team which he or she captained during the season just completed. Each captain read the names of those students who had earned a varsity letter last season.

Grace Asberry and Bob Brown received special recognition in being elected to the captaincies of two teams. Miss Asberry led the girls' field hockey and basketball squads, while Brown was co-captain in football and captain of the track squad.

Marilyn Dautrich, Tom Foley and Elaine Hardenburgh were recognized because of their achievements in earning varsity letters in three different sports during the college year.

Other captains seated on the stage yesterday were Jack Morris, co-captain in football; Don Bahtell and Fred Gahres, co-captains in soccer; Ed "Jake" Palmer, men's basketball; Joan Fairchild, girls' gym team; Dick Northrup, men's gym team; Foley, swimming; Ken Cox, wrestling; Adele Kocher, archery; Lyle Krall and Art Schaare, co-captains in baseball; Don Toth, men's tennis; Jean Hecht, girls' tennis and Eugenia Haehnle, cheer leading squad.

Braves Nudge Pirates, 4-2
Pittsburgh (AP)—Milwaukee's Braves, behind the steady eight-hit pitching of southpaw Chet Nichols, whipped the Pirates 4-2 last night. Left-handers now have inflicted 11 of the last-place Bucs' 19 losses this season.

Clincher
Rookie catcher Charley White accounted for two of Milwaukee's runs with a slashing double to left in the fourth frame, scoring Joe Adcock and "Hank" Aaron. Both had singled. Nichols sent White home on a single.

ESSTC Girls Complete Tennis, Archery Seasons With Wins

Philadelphia (AP)—East Stroudsburg State Teachers College wound up its girls' tennis season with a perfect record of five wins and no defeats by blanking the Temple University lassies, 5-0, yesterday. The matches were held here on the Oak Lane Country Day School courts.

The Warriorettes wound up with victories over Ursinus, Swarthmore, Drexel and Moravian in addition to Temple. ESSTC won a total of 23 points out of a possible 25.

Jean Hecht opened hostilities yesterday with a 6-0, 6-0 win over Ruth Bones, while Nancy Nail took the measure of Zelda Taft, 6-2, 6-2, and Elaine Hardenburgh defeated Ann Fisher, 6-0, 6-2.

In the doubles department Martha McAndrew and Marion LaPrete combined to blank Adriane McNaughton and Ann Friedman, 6-0, 6-0. Marilyn Dautrich and Margel Rothermel teamed to take the measure of Judy Berch and Dene Samitz, 6-1, 6-1.

Top Scorer
The ESSTC girls' archery team also defeated Temple, 1367-978. Adele Kocher led the winning attack with a 480 score out of a possible 648. Other totals by the Warriorettes were Florence Brizzy, 300; Lois Kist, 300, and Beverly Dean, 287.

Temple's scores were Helen McMaster, 340; Helen Bonihowski, 262; Kay Ganther, 221, and Judy Featherman, 155.

The ESSTC archery squad also took part in the National Telegraphic tournament on Wednesday. The first team came up with 2066 and the second team hit 779. Scores are telegraphed to Boston, where all colleges taking part in the tournament send their final results to a central office. The tournament allows each team to shoot on its home range.

ESSTC completed its archery season with two wins and one defeat.

Dancer Shows Speed
New York (AP)—Alfred Vandenberg's Native Dancer, in a final workout for the $300,000-added Metropolitan Handicap tomorrow, belted six furlongs yesterday at Belmont Park in 1:11 2-5.

The Phillis scored their first two runs in the second. Gran Hamner singled and Johnny Wyrostek walked. Then "Smoky" Burgess singled but Hamner was nailed at the plate. Bobby Morgan singled Wyrostek in and Burgess moved to third. Roberts grounded out but Burgess scored on the play.

The Phillis really put the game on ice with five runs in the fifth. Cincinnati — 100 000 000—1 1 3
